
Letter of Recommendation for Lachezar Todorov

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Lachezar, whom I managed and mentored during his time with our company from June 2025 to June 2026. During this period, Lachezar worked as a Software Developer Intern, primarily contributing to creating automations using Python and JavaScript. Throughout his internship, I had the opportunity to closely observe both his technical development and his professional growth, and I can confidently say that he consistently exceeded expectations.

Lachezar possesses a strong analytical mindset and demonstrates logical and algorithmic thinking that is essential for success in software development. He quickly developed the ability to work with complex systems and large data structures, approaching challenges with a structured and methodical problem-solving attitude. What stood out most was his ability to understand new concepts rapidly and apply them effectively in practical scenarios.

Beyond his technical abilities, Lachezar consistently showed initiative, reliability, and a willingness to take on challenging tasks. He delivered high-quality results within deadlines and proved to be a valuable member of the team.

Perhaps his most impressive quality is his commitment to continuous learning. Lachezar is genuinely passionate about improving his skills and expanding his knowledge. He actively seeks feedback, learns from experienced colleagues, and consistently looks for opportunities to grow both technically and professionally. This mindset allowed him to make remarkable progress during his year with us and strongly indicates his potential for future success in the software industry.

Based on his performance, work ethic, and the growth he demonstrated throughout his internship, we would have been pleased to continue working with Lachezar in a full-time Software Developer role. While there was no suitable permanent position available at the conclusion of his internship, his contributions to the team were highly valued, and he consistently left a positive impression.

I am confident that Lachezar will be an asset to any organization that values dedication, technical aptitude, and a strong desire to learn. I highly recommend him for software development opportunities and believe he has a bright future ahead.
